

Legislative BioBuzz: Week of May 10 – 14, 2010

Veto Session Concludes

The Kansas Legislature wrapped up its work for the 2010 legislative session Tuesday evening, May 11. Facing the challenges of a $500 million budget deficit and election year politics, this was one of the contemptuous and heated legislative sessions in recent history. In reality, the Kansas is not comprised of the traditional two party system. It is instead a political comparison of the war torn Baltic Republics, where our state is a compilation several rival geographical and philosophical factions that often join alliances to promote shared agendas and leave political casualties in their wake. This can be seen this veto session in the many examples of unconventional coalitions skirting traditional methods to obtain policy and political objectives. Please read below for the actions that transpired during the eleven day veto session.

One Cent Sales Tax Increase Approved: Industry Targeted Multi Million Tax Increases Defeated

The House (64-61) and Senate (23-17) approved S. Sub. For HB 2360, a bill that increases the state sales tax by one cent for 3 years. As approved, the state sales tax will go from 5.3 cents per dollar to 6.3 cents per dollar for three years, starting July 1, 2010. Then on July 1, 2013, the tax will decrease to 5.7 percent with revenue from 0.4 of a cent going toward the state transportation plan. The measure is estimated to bring in an additional $314 million to the state coffers. The tax increase was approved by a coalition of moderate Republicans and Democrats in both the House and the Senate. After the Senate approved the bill, the bipartisan House coalition broke with the wishes of House Republican leadership to avoid a tax increase and approved the bill after many hours of passionate debate. The Governor has announced he will approve the tax increase.

Most members of Senate Republican and Democrat Leadership blessed the sales tax increase and, in fact, promoted additional tax increases that specifically targeted Kansas businesses. Certain members in both parties numerous times cited the perception that businesses have not contributed enough to the state coffers and “don’t have enough skin in the game”. Therefore, in addition to the sales tax, certain leaders specifically proposed industry targeted tax increases including eliminating the ability to recognize the IRS section 199 deduction for domestic production and removing a number of the sales tax exemptions targeted at business. This business specific targeted tax increases were immediately addressed affected parties, the Senate recognized the error of their ways, and refused to include the provisions from the underlying bill. The Associated General Contractors Association also convinced the Senate to exempt already existing construction contracts from the sales tax increase.

Budget Approved Requiring Tax Increase

Against the desire of House Leadership to approve a budget without a tax increase, the House Democrats and moderate Republicans banded together to approve a $13.6 billion budget that restores much of the money to public education and social service programs not included in the House's original budget. The House approved SB 572 by a vote of 71-52 and the Senate approved the bill by a vote of 21-17. In addition to the $314 million tax increase to balance the revenue shortfall, additional cuts were made many state agencies to fill the $500 million budget shortfall. Neither the Kansas Bioscience Authority nor K-Tech sustained any additional cuts during the veto session other than those agreed to during the regular session – both of which the agencies say they can live with.

Transportation Bill Approved

The Senate approved and House Concurred to HB 2650, a bill that authorizes and funds the 10 year statewide comprehensive transportation plan. It funds a $8.2 billion plan that entails 1.7 billion in bonds, a .4% statewide sales tax increase (from 5.3 to 5.7 % starting in 2013) included in the one cent sales tax increase approved by the legislature and sent to the Governor that expires in 2013. The sales tax replaces the motor fuels tax currently in statute. Other revenue enhancements for the transportation bill include increasing registration fees for trucks from 12,000 to 54,000 lbs. by $100 ($50 in 2013 and $50 in 2014) and increasing registration fees for trucks larger than 54,000 lbs. by $135 ($85 in 2013 and $50 in 2014). The revenue generated will pay for road, rail, and public transit projects for the next decade. The Senate approved the bill by a vote of 25-13 and House approved it 86-38.

Ethanol Blending Bill Runs Out of Time

Even though Kansas Association of Ethanol Processors and the Petroleum Marketers were successful in obtaining Senate approval multiple times of a bill allowing gas retailers to continue to blend ethanol, stiff opposition from well financed anti-ethanol interests were able to keep a debate from occurring in the House by influencing Republican leadership. During the last days of the session, a tax bill was placed on the House calendar making it applicable to a blending bill amendment and bill supporters were prepared have an amendment attached. However, once House leadership learned of the bill's susceptibility to improved ethanol policy, it was quickly pulled from the calendar preventing any additional action this session.
